Wedding Flowers 2026

At Hadsham Farm Flowers, we specialise in small weddings and DIY wedding flower packages. All our blooms are grown here on the farm, with a natural, seasonal selection available from June to October. Every stem is freshly cut for your wedding.

As artisan growers, we cultivate a wide range of flower and foliage varieties in small batches. This means we can't promise exact quantities of specific stems, but we can promise a gorgeous, thoughtfully curated seasonal mix designed around your chosen colour palette.

Our flowers are grown organically without any chemical sprays, and we avoid floral foam and single-use plastics — ensuring your wedding flowers are as sustainable as they are beautiful.

DIY buckets which you arrange yourselves

By arranging the flowers yourselves, you will save money, have full creative control over the look and be able to involve family and friends; all of which adds a personal touch to your wedding.

How many buckets/flowers will I need?

Our flower buckets contain a mix of farm-grown flowers, foliage and grasses. Each bucket contains around 65 stems. The number of flowers needed depends on the desired look and the size/shape of flowers in season.

Why Choose a Local British Flower Grower for Your Wedding Flowers?

Fresher, longer-lasting flowers

British-grown blooms are cut at peak freshness—often days, sometimes weeks fresher than imported flowers. They look vibrant for longer and hold up beautifully throughout your wedding day.

Sustainable and low-carbon

Most imported flowers travel thousands of miles by air freight.

We reduce transport emissions dramatically and use eco-friendly growing methods (no heated greenhouses, no chemical use, peat-free).

Seasonal beauty you can't get elsewhere

As British artisan growers, we work with the seasons.

Couples get truly unique arrangements using flowers at their natural best—sweet peas in early summer, dahlias in late summer, garden roses and scented foliage all season long.

Unmatched fragrance and character and bespoke colours & varieties

Many imported flowers are bred for transport durability, not scent.

British blooms often have rich, natural fragrance and a “garden style” look that feels more romantic, natural and textural. We cultivate unusual varieties you rarely see in mainstream floristry—perfect for couples wanting something different, artisanal and personal

Support small farms & local craftsmanship

Every bouquet supports independent growers, their families and rural communities.

We also hand-select stems for your palette, giving a level of care and craftsmanship you won't get from mass-produced imports.

Fully traceable, ethical supply chain

You know exactly where your flowers came from and how they were grown.

No mystery labour conditions, no excessive chemicals—just honest British farming.

Resilient blooms for outdoor weddings

British flowers are naturally acclimatised to UK weather.

They tend to cope better with outdoor ceremonies, tipis, and warm summer days compared to delicate imported blooms.
